

peace

© SpellingCity.com

noun
state of tranquility, security and harmony

The war ended and there was peace.

Synonym(s): unity, harmony, tranquility
Antonym(s): fighting, disharmony, war

© SpellingCity.com

pain

© SpellingCity.com

noun
suffering, discomfort or distress

I am suffering from a pain in my tooth.

Synonym(s): suffering, discomfort, distress, ache, agony
Antonym(s): comfort, pleasure

© SpellingCity.com

pane

© SpellingCity.com

noun
a sheet of glass framed in a window or door

Rain falls against the glass window pane.

Synonym(s): glass

© SpellingCity.com

knight

© SpellingCity.com

noun
a medieval soldier

The knight wore a suit of shining armor.

© SpellingCity.com

night

© SpellingCity.com

noun
the dark hours between sunset and sunrise

I sleep at night and awaken in the morning.

Synonym(s): evening
Antonym(s): day, morning

© SpellingCity.com

plane

© SpellingCity.com

noun
a winged vehicle that flies in the air

We watched the plane take off at the airport.

Synonym(s): jet, airplane

© SpellingCity.com

plain

© SpellingCity.com

adjective
not fancy or beautiful

The dress looks plain without the fancy bow.

Synonym(s): ordinary Antonym(s): fancy, ornate, embellished, gaudy

© SpellingCity.com

past

© SpellingCity.com

adjective
before now

Was is the past tense of is.

Antonym(s): future

© SpellingCity.com

passed

© SpellingCity.com

verb
went by, continued or proceeded

The car passed by without stopping.

Synonym(s): proceeded Antonym(s): stopped, waited

© SpellingCity.com

piece

© SpellingCity.com

noun
a fraction or part of a whole

Please save me a piece of cake.

Synonym(s): portion, slice, bit, part Antonym(s): whole, entirety

© SpellingCity.com