

citizenship

© SpellingCity.com

citizenship
legal status of a voting resident of a country

I have citizenship in my native country.

© SpellingCity.com

copywriter

© SpellingCity.com

copywriter
one who writes advertising information

Advertisements are written by a copywriter.

© SpellingCity.com

counterclockwise

© SpellingCity.com

counterclockwise
moving in the opposite direction to the way clock hands move

Turn the lid counterclockwise, to the left.

© SpellingCity.com

drawstring

© SpellingCity.com

drawstring
cord one pulls to cinch an opening closed

She pulled the drawstring to close the bag.

© SpellingCity.com

darkroom

© SpellingCity.com

darkroom
a dimly lit place for developing photographs

He develops photographs in the darkroom.

© SpellingCity.com

folklore

© SpellingCity.com

folklore
traditional beliefs and legends of a group

Each generation told stories and folklore.

© SpellingCity.com

forearm

© SpellingCity.com

forearm
body part between the hand and elbow

The forearm is located above the wrist.

© SpellingCity.com

freshman

© SpellingCity.com

freshman
a first year high school or college student

A freshman was in her first year of college.

© SpellingCity.com

heirloom

© SpellingCity.com

heirloom
a valuable family object that is passed down

I inherited an heirloom ring from my mother.

© SpellingCity.com

roundabout

© SpellingCity.com

roundabout
not direct, circuitous

We took a roundabout and circuitous route.

© SpellingCity.com